V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-10	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	1-10	YES
	Claims		NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-10	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations1. With respect to claim 1:

Claim 1 meets the requirements of PCT Article 33(2) to (4) with respect to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability.

Since none of the documents cited in the search report or acknowledged in the introductory part of the description discloses all of the features of independent claim 1, the subject matter of claim 1 is novel.

The documents cited in the search report contain nothing that would prompt a person skilled in the art, in a transmission shift system with a synchronization device for idlers having a synchronizer sleeve with hydraulic actuation according to US-A-3 860 101, to actuate the synchronizer sleeve for speed synchronization with an actuation pressure according to the characterizing part of claim 1. The measure consisting in that in order to achieve speed synchronization, the actuation pressure is increased to a pressure (P1) that is higher than the actuation pressure (P0) in the unengaged state and lower than the actuation pressure required for unlocking (Ps), slight axial displacement of the synchronizer sleeve being possible at this actuation pressure (P1), results from a step which is not a logical development of the cited prior art. Therefore, the transmission shift system according to claim 1 involves an inventive step.

The subject matter of claim 1 can be manufactured and used and is therefore also regarded as industrially applicable.

2. With respect to claims 2-10:

Dependent claims 2-10 relate to advantageous and non-obvious embodiments of a transmission shift system according to claim 1. Therefore, claims 2-10 likewise meet the requirements for novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability pursuant to PCT Article 33(2) to (4).
